

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The investment objective of the fund is an above-average appreciation of the entrusted funds in a longer time horizon of investments on the capital markets according to the EnCor investment model. The fund allocates funds to all major asset classes, especially stocks, bonds, commodities and money market instruments. The fund invests primarily in cost-effective index funds (ETF/ETC), but also in individual shares, bonds and other instruments, mainly in CZK, EUR and USD. Current earnings are reinvested and further appreciated. The fund does not follow any comparative benchmark, but an absolute return target that in the long term outperforms the performance of a fixed portfolio (70% stocks / 30% bonds) while having lower volatility.

PORTFOLIO MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

February's performance pattern followed that of January 2026, with solid returns in international equity and commodity assets. The Fund benefited, making a 1.04% gain in CZK terms. Rallies in most Developed equities bourses outside of the US countered weakness in US Tech and software stocks. The overall US market subsided -1%, as did the Czech PX Index, down -4%. The German market and Global "High Quality" companies registered solid 3%-5% gains. Gold was the best-performing asset, ending a volatile month 9% higher in CZK terms, with oil tracking up 5%. The onset of the Third Gulf War at month end has reversed the performance momentum of international stocks seen in the first two months of the year. Spiking energy prices and a stronger US Dollar, if sustained, will generate an energy shock for European and especially Asian oil & gas-importing countries. This scenario potentially threatens the stronger earnings growth picture for international equities that was unfolding in recent months. The Fund's positions in commodities, especially oil, gold, cash and its fixed income holdings, mainly CZK-denominated, offer some downside protection.
